Rhoads Passes ISO 9001:2015 Audit with No Corrective Actions

Philadelphia, PA, June, 14, 2017 – Rhoads Industries, Inc. (Rhoads), a strategic partner and total solution provider of industrial fabrication, installation and maintenance services and facilities, announced it has passed the International Organization for Standardization (ISO): 9001:2015 audit with no corrective actions. ISO is the world's largest developer of voluntary international standards.

Auditors from DQS Management Systems conducted a thorough five day audit in May 2017 of Rhoads' quality system for its fabrication, production, paint and blast facilities and offices to ensure compliance with ISO 9001:2015 standards.

This audit was an upgrade from the former ISO:9001:2008 certifications and reflects a larger emphasis on risk management. Rhoads passed the audit with no corrective actions and was recognized in particular for the high degree of competency of its employees, both in management and production.

“The outcomes of this audit are extremely important to our team as we strive to maintain our reputation of excellence by consistently providing customers with utmost quality, efficiency and reliability,” said Dan Rhoads, CEO and Owner of Rhoads. “Thank you to the ISO and DQS Management Systems for your development and enforcement of these standards that keep our quality assurance in-check.”
